

Yet, without their educational, cultural and philanthropic drives the Armenian nation could not have progressed as quickly as it did. Thus, in the final analysis, amiras laid the foundations of the renaissance of the Armenian people in the constitutional period.